In support of this statement it republishes the dinner bill of fare of the Ward House, San Francisco, for Ootober 27, 1849, as follows:

It may cool the arder of . some; wouldbe Klondiko miners to read this and then remember that provision is much more scarce in Alaska than in California and the climate far more conpropitions. Ulf a pick or shovel cost $10 each in San Francisco in 1849, a tin pan 85, and a pair of ordinary coarse boots 840, what is likely to be the price of the articles in Dawson City for the next twelve moths?

Answered by the People. A Game of Croquet The scatting cilitarial recently pablished in the Brooklyn Eagle and reproduced in Time White Thursday morning toeched the New York World in a sore these hot days. -Situation at Pittsburg.

of West Virginia.

"Pittsburg, Pa, -July 29,-Oak Hill, in Armitt, was invaded after midnight by an army of strikers who came to attend the great mass meeting to be held near the mines today. It is estimated that by daybreak there awere several thousand miliers encamped upon the hills surround-

rived from Wilocks, Gastenville, Fin-leyville and other points along the Wheel-ling division, nearly all of them carrying; heavy walking sticks and some were armed. There were no threats of vio-lence; however, and no indications for definiting! Many, were supplied with food enough to last two days.

Immediately upoof reaching Oak Hill, the strikers prepared for camp.
In the valley leading the from the Turtle Creek to one of the New York & Cleveland dates, the company had a powerful search light. It was kept diffi-ing about in hope of fanking any moment.

About 4 o'clock: 1,500 strikers assem-ed at the Turtle Creek mine and beaded thed at the turne creek mine and headed by three bress bands with days and ban-hers flying marched past the houses occu-pled by I'e Arndit's miners. The strik-ers houted and yelled and then marched to the mines where they planted them-selves before the plin, thus compiling the Armitt's men to run the gnuntlet to yet to work. get to work.

A short time after, Sheriff Lowry, who had been wheel to for assistance, arrived from Pittsburg with 50 deputies armed with Winchesters. The atrikers quietly withdrew and the new deputies were placed on grand. Everything is quiet now.

President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor and General Master Workman Sovereign of the Knights of Labor, have crived here and have called upon Gov. Atkinson to get an expression from him as to their rights to speak and hold meetings in West Virginia and especially to complain of Injunctions issued by Judge Masson, prehiliting the organizers to appear or hold meetings on the grounds of any coal company without permission, or upon any road leading to the company's property.

Gov. Atkinson pointed out to his visitors that three branches of state government, the executive, the legislative and the judicial are entirely separate and distinct, one from the other; that he had jurisdiction only in the executive branch, and that the matter of lisaning the injunction is purely a matter of the courts or the judicial branch. The governor had not been an official copy of the injunction, but if what he got from the towapapers in regard to it, was correct, he believed ithat the injunction was too awering initis provisions.

after a 16 daya filmess following an attack of apoplexy. He was 77 years of age.

About July 2 Mr. Lovell came to the Vineyard from his home in East Weymouth. His health of late had not hear of the best, but his releads hoped he would benefit by the change and for a few days after his arrival at Cottage City, he rapidly gained in strength. On Mcnday, the 12th, however, he was prostrated by a severe stroke of apoplexy and since that time his life has wavered in the halance.

Mr. Lovell was the founder and head of the John P. Lovell Arms Co. one of the largest dealers in fire arms and sporting goods in this country, it being 52 years since helpsechered a controlling interest in the business. He was born in Easts Brainfree and learned the guissibility trade jof A. B. Palebanks, in Beston, with whom he subsequently entered into partnership.

Mr. Lovell was a member of many seelelles, among the most prominent of which are the Masona and Old Pellows. He was the first president of the East Weymouth Savings hank and held that position for ten years. He has been director of the Weymouth National bank for many years, and also of the South Shore Masonic Mulual Rellet association.
